COURSES

B.Pharm

The Bachelor of Pharmacy (B.Pharm) program at Jawaharlal Nehru Technological University Anantapur (JNTUA) is a four-year undergraduate course that provides comprehensive training in pharmaceutical sciences. Accredited by the Pharmacy Council of India (PCI) and the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), the program blends theoretical knowledge with practical experience, equipping students for careers in the pharmaceutical industry, healthcare, research, and academia. The curriculum covers key subjects such as Pharmaceutical Chemistry, Pharmacology, Pharmaceutics, Pharmacy Practice and Pharmacognosy, along with emerging areas like Pharmaceutical Biotechnology. Students benefit from state-of-the-art laboratories, experienced faculty, and hands-on industrial training. The program also emphasizes research opportunities, encouraging students to engage in innovative projects that contribute to advancements in drug development and healthcare solutions. Graduates of the B.Pharm program can pursue roles in drug formulation, quality control, hospital pharmacy, regulatory affairs, and research and development. They are also well-prepared for higher studies in specialized fields of pharmacy. With strong industry connections and an emphasis on holistic education, JNTUA's B.Pharm program is an excellent choice for aspiring pharmacy professionals.

Eligibility

Bachelor Degree in Pharmacy requires a candidate to have cleared 10+2 with Physics, Chemistry, Maths (PCM) or Physics, Chemistry, Biology (PCB) or Physics, Chemistry, Maths & Biology as subjects. One must also pass with at least 50% marks in Pre University Course with biology/mathematics as one of the subjects, or complete a D.Pharma. (Diploma in Pharmacy).

There is an option of pursuing Direct Second Year Bachelor of Pharmacy (Lateral Entry) if one has: Should have aggregate of 50% marks in the First and Second year D. Pharmacy Examination with a pass in HSC or equivalent with Physics, Chemistry and Biology (Botany & Zoology) or Mathematics.

Minimum qualifying marks in 10+2 examination as per Regulation (1a) above with pass in two-year D. Pharmacy course.

The criteria of minimum percentage of marks may differ from institute to institute. In some states it is also mandatory to give an additional pharmacy entrance examination in order to be eligible for the course.

Some of the Pharmacy Entrance Tests

- BHU B Pharma Entrance Exam
- GPAT - Graduate Pharmacy Aptitude Test
- GCET - Goa Common Entrance Test
- MHT-CET - Maharashtra Common Entrance Test

Pharm D

The Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) program at Jawaharlal Nehru Technological University Anantapur (JNTUA) is a 6-year professional degree designed to train students in advanced clinical and community pharmacy. It includes five years of academic study followed by a one-year internship or residency in a hospital setting. The curriculum covers a range of subjects including Pharmaceutics, Pharmacology, Clinical Pharmacy, Pharmacotherapeutics, and Hospital Pharmacy, with an emphasis on patient care and therapeutic drug monitoring. Students also gain knowledge in clinical research, biopharmaceutics, and pharmacy practice, aligning with the standards set by the Pharmacy Council of India (PCI). Throughout the course, students undergo regular evaluations through exams, practical assessments, and project work. The final year is focused on hands-on training, where students participate in hospital ward rounds, interact with healthcare teams, and provide medication counseling. This practical exposure helps students apply their academic knowledge to real-world clinical settings. Upon completion, graduates are equipped for roles in clinical and hospital pharmacy, pharmacovigilance, regulatory affairs, and research, or they may choose to pursue further studies.

Eligibility

- 10+2 examination with Physics and Chemistry as compulsory subjects along with one of the following subjects: Mathematics or Biology.
- A pass in D.Pharm. course from an institution approved by the Pharmacy Council of India under section 12 of the Pharmacy Act.
- Any other qualification approved by the Pharmacy Council of India as equivalent to any of the above examinations.
- Provided that a student should complete the age of 17 years on or before 31st December of the year of admission to the course.

- Pharma D, or Doctor of Pharmacy, is a professional degree focused on clinical pharmacy, patient care, and medication management. The program combines theoretical knowledge with practical experience in hospitals and community settings, preparing graduates to become licensed pharmacists, clinical researchers, or healthcare professionals specialized in optimizing patient outcomes through effective medication use.

M.Pharmacy

The Master of Pharmacy (M.Pharm) program at JNTU Ananthapur typically covers advanced topics in pharmaceutical sciences and is designed to provide specialized knowledge in various fields of pharmacy. The M.Pharm course is generally of 2 years duration, divided into 4 semesters. our college offers specializations like Pharmaceutics & Pharmaceutical Analysis. Eligibility Criteria Candidates must have a Bachelor of Pharmacy (B.Pharm) degree with a minimum percentage as specified by the university. Admission is typically based on entrance exams like GPAT (Graduate Pharmacy Aptitude Test) or PGECET. The Core Subjects have Advanced topics in pharmaceutical sciences, drug design, and drug delivery systems. The Practical Training includes laboratory work, industry visits, and internships. Students are required to undertake a significant research project, which is usually carried out in the final year.

Eligibility

- Candidates who have passed Bachelor of Pharmacy Programme with not less than 50% of marks, of any recognised University or any other Institute equivalent thereto the University, are eligible for admission to the Master of Pharmacy Programmes.
- For SC/ST candidates, the eligibility is a pass in the B.Pharm. degree Programme.
- An entrance examination Graduate Pharmacy Aptitude Test (GPAT) and interview is also conducted for admission. GPAT is an all India Examination to be conducted by the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara on behalf of All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), New Delhi.
- The Scores in Graduate Aptitude Test for Engineering (GATE) were in use till the year 2009 for admission in Masters Programme in Pharmacy (M.Pharm) and also for awarding fellowships/scholarships to Pharmacy graduates along with engineering graduates.
- The Organizing Committee for GATE expressed its inability to include Pharmacy graduates in GATE with effect from the year 2010, owing to operational problems due to large number of candidates appearing for GATE examination. Therefore, in order to facilitate admission of Pharmacy graduates in M.Pharm. as also to award fellowships/scholarships to Pharmacy graduates, AICTE decided to organize and conduct an examination in the name of Graduate Pharmacy Aptitude Test (GPAT) with effect from academic year 2010-11. Accordingly, a National Monitoring Committee (NMC) was constituted for monitoring the issues pertaining to the policy as well as conduct of GPAT examination.
- M.Pharmacy, or Master of Pharmacy, is a postgraduate program that delves into advanced studies and research in pharmaceutical sciences. The program prepares graduates for careers in research, academia, clinical practice, and the pharmaceutical industry, emphasizing drug development and patient care.

DIRECTOR OF EVALUATION

ABOUT DEPARTMENTS

Department of Pharmaceutics

Pharmaceutics is the branch of pharmacy that deals with the formulation, development, manufacturing, and evaluation of dosage forms to ensure safe, effective, and reliable delivery of drugs to patients. It converts active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs) into suitable products such as tablets, capsules, syrups, injections, and ointments. This field focuses on the study of drug stability, solubility, bioavailability, and controlled release mechanisms. It also covers biopharmaceutics and pharmacokinetics, which explain how the body absorbs, distributes, metabolizes, and excretes drugs. Pharmaceutics ensures that medicines are not only therapeutically effective but also acceptable and convenient for patient use. It plays a crucial role in developing novel drug delivery systems like nanoparticles, transdermal patches, and sustained-release formulations. The department equips students with practical knowledge of formulation design, quality assurance, and good manufacturing practices (GMP). Ultimately, pharmaceutics bridges the gap between drug discovery and clinical use by transforming chemical compounds into safe, effective, and patient-friendly pharmaceutical products.

Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry

Pharmaceutical Chemistry is a vital branch of pharmacy that involves the study of chemical, biochemical, and molecular aspects of drugs and their development. It focuses on the design, synthesis, analysis, and structural modification of drug molecules to enhance their therapeutic activity and minimize side effects. This discipline combines concepts from organic chemistry, medicinal chemistry, and analytical chemistry to discover and optimize new drug compounds. Students learn about structure–activity relationships (SAR), mechanisms of drug action, and methods used in drug quality control and assurance. The subject also covers spectroscopy, chromatography, and other analytical techniques used for identifying and quantifying pharmaceutical substances. Pharmaceutical Chemistry plays an essential role in drug discovery and development, ensuring that medications are pure, effective, and safe for human use. It provides a foundation for understanding how the chemical structure of a drug affects its pharmacological properties. Overall, this department equips students with the skills necessary for careers in research, development, quality assurance, and regulatory affairs within the pharmaceutical industry.

Department of Pharmacognosy

Pharmacognosy is the study of medicines derived from natural sources such as plants, animals, and minerals. It deals with the identification, extraction, purification, and analysis of bioactive natural products used in drug development. This branch emphasizes the importance of traditional and herbal medicines in modern healthcare. Students study crude drugs, phytochemistry (the chemistry of plant constituents), and methods for isolating active ingredients like alkaloids, glycosides, tannins, and flavonoids. Pharmacognosy also explores ethnobotany, which investigates how indigenous cultures use medicinal plants. With the rise in demand for herbal and alternative medicines, pharmacognosy plays a key role in ensuring the authenticity, quality, and safety of natural drugs. The department combines traditional knowledge with modern analytical techniques such as chromatography and spectroscopy to validate the therapeutic potential of natural products. It also contributes to the discovery of new drugs from natural sources and promotes the sustainable use of medicinal plants. Overall, pharmacognosy bridges the gap between nature and modern medicine.

Department of Pharmacy Practice

Pharmacy Practice is the branch of pharmacy that focuses on the application of pharmaceutical knowledge in clinical, community, and hospital settings to ensure safe and effective patient care. It involves drug dispensing, prescription analysis, patient counseling, and promoting rational drug use. Pharmacists play a crucial role in advising healthcare professionals and patients on the correct use of medicines, potential side effects, and interactions. This department trains students to develop communication and clinical skills necessary for patient-centered care. Topics such as clinical pharmacy, hospital pharmacy, community pharmacy, and pharmaceutical jurisprudence are studied in detail. Pharmacy Practice also emphasizes pharmacovigilance, medication therapy management, and public health awareness. The department plays a significant role in improving therapeutic outcomes and preventing medication errors. It bridges the gap between the doctor and the patient, ensuring that medicines are used appropriately and effectively. Overall, Pharmacy Practice strengthens the healthcare system by promoting the safe, ethical, and efficient use of medicines for better patient health outcomes.

Department of Pharmacology

Pharmacology is the branch of pharmacy that studies the effects of drugs on living organisms and how the body responds to them. It focuses on understanding the mechanisms of drug action, therapeutic effects, adverse effects, and drug interactions. This field is divided into two main areas: pharmacodynamics (what the drug does to the body) and pharmacokinetics (what the body does to the drug). Students learn about different classes of drugs, their mechanisms, and clinical applications in the treatment of diseases. Pharmacology is essential for drug development, as it provides insight into the safety and efficacy of new compounds through preclinical and clinical testing. The department also emphasizes toxicology, experimental pharmacology, and the study of receptor systems. Pharmacology helps bridge basic science with clinical medicine, contributing to rational drug therapy and patient safety. It enables pharmacists to understand drug mechanisms and make informed decisions in healthcare. Overall, pharmacology is fundamental in ensuring that medicines are both safe and effective for therapeutic use.

Department of Pharmaceutical Analysis

Pharmaceutical Analysis is a crucial branch of pharmacy that deals with the qualitative and quantitative determination of drugs and pharmaceutical substances. It ensures the identity, purity, potency, and quality of raw materials, intermediates, and finished products. The main objective of pharmaceutical analysis is to guarantee that medicines are safe, effective, and meet official standards set by pharmacopeias such as IP, BP, and USP. This field employs various analytical techniques, including titrimetric methods, gravimetric analysis, spectroscopic techniques (like UV, IR, and NMR), and chromatographic methods (such as HPLC, GC, and TLC). Students learn how to apply these methods for drug testing, impurity profiling, stability studies, and quality control. The department also focuses on the development and validation of new analytical methods to ensure precision and accuracy in pharmaceutical research. Analytical chemistry plays a key role in regulatory compliance, product development, and ensuring batch-to-batch consistency in manufacturing. Overall, Pharmaceutical Analysis is essential for maintaining the safety, efficacy, and quality of pharmaceutical products, forming the foundation for research, development, and quality assurance in the pharmaceutical industry.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

B.PHARMACY

The admission procedure for the B.Pharmacy course follows a structured process based on state-level entrance exams and counseling. To be eligible, candidates must have completed 10+2 with Physics and Chemistry, along with either Mathematics or Biology (PCM or PCB stream), from a recognized board. A minimum aggregate of around 45–50% is required, though this may be slightly relaxed for reserved categories. The primary mode of admission is through the AP EAMCET/ EAPCET (Andhra Pradesh Engineering, Agriculture, and Pharmacy Common Entrance Test), specifically under the Pharmacy/Agriculture stream. The exam is usually conducted in mid-May, and students must apply for and participate in the APSCHE counseling process, where seat allotment is done based on EAPCET rank, category, and preferences. The college offers around 100 regular government-category seats and an additional 30% under the management or NRI quota. Once a seat is allotted, students are required to report to the college with all necessary documents, which include the EAPCET admit card and rank card, 10th and 12th mark sheets and certificates, domicile certificate (if applicable), caste or reservation certificates, transfer or migration certificate, ID proof (like Aadhar), passport-size photos, and the downloaded admission form.

PHARM.D

The admission procedure for the Pharm.D (Doctor of Pharmacy) follows a structured process based on eligibility, entrance exams, and centralized counseling. Pharm.D is a six-year professional program that includes five years of academic study followed by one year of mandatory internship or residency in a hospital. The college offers approximately 30 seats, of which 70% are filled through government quota (Convener seats via AP EAPCET counseling) and the remaining 30% through the Management/NRI quota.

To be eligible, candidates must have passed 10+2 or equivalent with Physics and Chemistry as compulsory subjects and either Mathematics or Biology as the third subject. A minimum aggregate of 45% is required (40% for reserved categories), and candidates must be at least 17 years old as of December 31st in the year of admission. Admission is primarily based on performance in the EAMCET/ AP EAPCET (Engineering, Agriculture & Pharmacy Common Entrance Test). Students must qualify in this exam to be considered for government quota seats. For management and NRI quota seats, selection criteria may include AP EAPCET rank or performance in the 10+2 examination, depending on the college's discretion. After qualifying, candidates must participate in APSCHC counseling, where seat allotment is carried out based on rank, category, and seat availability.

The general admission timeline starts with the AP EAPCET application process in March–April, followed by the exam in May, and counseling in June–July. Selected candidates must report to the college for document verification and fee payment during July–August. Required documents include the AP EAPCET hall ticket and rank card, SSC and intermediate certificates, D.Pharm transcripts (if applicable), caste or reservation certificates, domicile/local status certificate, transfer/migration certificate, recent passport-size photos, ID proof like Aadhar, and a medical fitness certificate if requested.

M.PHARMACY

The admission process for the M.Pharmacy (Master of Pharmacy) program is a well-defined and merit-based procedure. The program spans two years and is offered in specializations such as Pharmaceutics and Pharmaceutical Analysis, with an annual intake of approximately 15 seats per specialization. To be eligible, applicants must possess a B.Pharm degree from a PCI-recognized institution with at least 50% aggregate marks (45% for reserved categories). Admission is primarily based on performance in either the GPAT (Graduate Pharmacy Aptitude Test) or the AP PGECET, with 70% of seats allotted through the AP state convener counselling (based on entrance test ranks) and 30% through management/NRI quota. Required documents include B.Pharm mark sheets and degree certificates, GPAT/PGECET score card, SSC and intermediate certificates, caste/domicile/reservation certificates (if applicable), migration certificate, transfer certificate, and recent passport-size photographs.

NATIONAL SERVICE SCHEME (NSS)

The National Service Scheme (NSS) is an Indian government-sponsored public service program conducted by the Department of Youth Affairs and Sports of the Government of India. Popularly known as NSS, the scheme was launched in Gandhiji's Centenary year, 1969. Aimed at developing student's personality through community service, NSS is a voluntary association of young people in Colleges, Universities and at +2 level working for a campus-community linkage.

The NSS unit of NARAYANA PHARMACY COLLEGE, NELLORE plays an active role in shaping our students humane and responsible citizens. The overall aim of NSS is the Personality Development of students through community service.

Vision & Mission

Vision:

The vision is to build the youth with the mind and spirit to serve the society and work for the social uplift of the down-trodden masses of our nation as a movement.

Mission:

- To build a socially sensitive and responsible generation of youth.
- To cultivate a spirit of selfless service and national pride.
- To bridge the gap between education and society through active participation.
- To inspire lifelong commitment to community and nation.
- To create a network of socially committed volunteers for a better India.

Motto:

The Motto of NSS "Not Me But You", reflects the essence of democratic living and upholds the need for self-less service. NSS helps the students develop appreciation to other person's point of view and also show consideration to /other living beings. The philosophy of the NSS is well doctined in this motto, which underlines/on the belief that the welfare .of an individual is ultimately dependent on the welfare of the society on the whole and therefore, the NSS volunteers shall strive for the well-being of the society.

The symbol for the NSS has been based on the giant Rath Wheel of the world famous Konark Sun Temple (The Black Pagoda) situated in Orissa, India. The wheel portrays the cycle of creation, preservation and release and signifies the movement in life across time and space, The symbol thus stands for continuity as well as change and implies the continuous striving of NSS for social change.

Badge:

The NSS Symbol is embossed on the badge. The eight bars in the wheel represent the 24 hours of a day. The red colour indicates that the volunteer is full of young blood that is lively, active, energetic and full of high spirit. The navy blue colour indicates the cosmos of which the NSS is tiny part, ready to contribute its share for the welfare of the mankind.

Aim:

The programme aims to inculcate social welfare in students, and to provide service to society without bias. NSS volunteers work to ensure that everyone who is needy gets help to enhance their standard of living and lead a life of dignity. In doing so, volunteers learn from people in villages how to lead a good life despite a scarcity of resources. it also provides help in natural and man-made disasters by providing food,clothing and first aid to the disaster victims.

NSS Day:

NSS was formally launched on 24th September, 1969, the birth centenary year of the Father of the Nation. Therefore 24 september is celebrated every year as NSS Day with appropriate programmes and activities.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

B.PHARMACY

The admission procedure for the B.Pharmacy course follows a structured process based on state-level entrance exams and counseling. To be eligible, candidates must have completed 10+2 with Physics and Chemistry, along with either Mathematics or Biology (PCM or PCB stream), from a recognized board. A minimum aggregate of around 45–50% is required, though this may be slightly relaxed for reserved categories. The primary mode of admission is through the AP EAMCET/ EAPCET (Andhra Pradesh Engineering, Agriculture, and Pharmacy Common Entrance Test), specifically under the Pharmacy/Agriculture stream. The exam is usually conducted in mid-May, and students must apply for and participate in the APSCHE counseling process, where seat allotment is done based on EAPCET rank, category, and preferences. The college offers around 100 regular government-category seats and an additional 30% under the management or NRI quota. Once a seat is allotted, students are required to report to the college with all necessary documents, which include the EAPCET admit card and rank card, 10th and 12th mark sheets and certificates, domicile certificate (if applicable), caste or reservation certificates, transfer or migration certificate, ID proof (like Aadhar), passport-size photos, and the downloaded admission form.

PHARM.D

The admission procedure for the Pharm.D (Doctor of Pharmacy) follows a structured process based on eligibility, entrance exams, and centralized counseling. Pharm.D is a six-year professional program that includes five years of academic study followed by one year of mandatory internship or residency in a hospital. The college offers approximately 30 seats, of which 70% are filled through government quota (Convener seats via AP EAPCET counseling) and the remaining 30% through the Management/NRI quota.

To be eligible, candidates must have passed 10+2 or equivalent with Physics and Chemistry as compulsory subjects and either Mathematics or Biology as the third subject. A minimum aggregate of 45% is required (40% for reserved categories), and candidates must be at least 17 years old as of December 31st in the year of admission. Admission is primarily based on performance in the EAMCET/ AP EAPCET (Engineering, Agriculture & Pharmacy Common Entrance Test). Students must qualify in this exam to be considered for government quota seats. For management and NRI quota seats, selection criteria may include AP EAPCET rank or performance in the 10+2 examination, depending on the college's discretion. After qualifying, candidates must participate in APSCHC counseling, where seat allotment is carried out based on rank, category, and seat availability.

The general admission timeline starts with the AP EAPCET application process in March–April, followed by the exam in May, and counseling in June–July. Selected candidates must report to the college for document verification and fee payment during July–August. Required documents include the AP EAPCET hall ticket and rank card, SSC and intermediate certificates, D.Pharm transcripts (if applicable), caste or reservation certificates, domicile/local status certificate, transfer/migration certificate, recent passport-size photos, ID proof like Aadhar, and a medical fitness certificate if requested.

M.PHARMACY

The admission process for the M.Pharmacy (Master of Pharmacy) program is a well-defined and merit-based procedure. The program spans two years and is offered in specializations such as Pharmaceutics and Pharmaceutical Analysis, with an annual intake of approximately 15 seats per specialization. To be eligible, applicants must possess a B.Pharm degree from a PCI-recognized institution with at least 50% aggregate marks (45% for reserved categories). Admission is primarily based on performance in either the GPAT (Graduate Pharmacy Aptitude Test) or the AP PGECET, with 70% of seats allotted through the AP state convener counselling (based on entrance test ranks) and 30% through management/NRI quota. Required documents include B.Pharm mark sheets and degree certificates, GPAT/PGECET score card, SSC and intermediate certificates, caste/domicile/reservation certificates (if applicable), migration certificate, transfer certificate, and recent passport-size photographs.
